

Meyco's stainless steel wall anchors won't stain rock walls like others made of lead or zinc.

Meyco's patented Polyguard provides a customized fit around unique features, such as steps or rocks.

Specially designed anchors keep your Meyco cover taut, no matter what it's anchored to. For example, this lawn spike is perfect for planted landscape areas.

Stainless steel buckles and aluminum tips won't rust or stain your deck.

High quality brass anchors and stainless steel springs combine to create an anchoring system that keeps your Meyco cover taut for years. When your cover is not in use, the anchor retracts into the deck and becomes virtually unnoticeable.

Meyco's webbing is 45% stronger than any competing cover. And, we only use white, polyester-bonded marine thread for the highest UV protection available, adding years to your cover's life.
